

Your Subject Matter Experts

IBM is a global company with subject matter experts in a range of job roles. The material in this course is intended to give you knowledge for a career in cybersecurity not from a set of formal charts and instructors but from the knowledge and experience of the subject matter experts that are assisting our clients every day in the field at their locations, as ethical hackers and penetration testers as well as in our Security Operation Centers.

These subject matter experts (SMEs) for this course are from the United States, Costa Rica, and Italy. As you continue your journey to enhance your skills in cybersecurity, you will also hear from SMEs from Canada and the UK.

Here are your SMEs:

Your Subject Matter Experts - Cybersecurity Roles, Processes and OS.pptx